CARR-187 Henry Herbaugh House
3454 Uniontown Road

A tradition frequently found in Uniontown architecture is the combination of business and crafts workshops with the residences. An example is 3454 Uniontown Road, which was used for a post office, saddler's shop and general store. The property was bought by Henry Herbaugh in 1826, and he built the structure shortly thereafter. In fact, a journal kept by Major Alexander McIlhenny, who lived on a farm outside of Uniontown, notes the following references to this building: "Mar. 19, 1830. Masons are at work for H. H. Herbaugh. Mar. 20. H. H. H. raised his building." The masons mentioned on the diary entry prepared the foundation for the structure. The 1862 Martenet's Map lists the Herbaugh property as "saddler and P.O." Later references show that the Eckard family lived in the eastern section and operated a general store and post office in the western section. The exterior of this house shows the uneven-width wood siding frequently used on houses during this period. Vertical lines or breaks in the siding indicate an addition and areas where remodeling changed door and window locations.
